

SENATE SENDS RELIEF BILL TO CERTAIN VETO

FORMER AMBOY
MAN ARRESTED
ON OLD CHARGE

Ralph Bybee Accused Of Abduction Of Edw.
A. Jones Dec. 7

Ralph Bybee, former resident of Amboy, was arrested last night at Amboy and turned over to the sheriff's forces at the county jail at Dixon where he is held on a charge of larceny, the charge being preferred by Edward A. Jones, aged 50, of Mendota and also of Amboy on December 7 last year. Bybee has been sought by the local sheriff's office and the Amboy police since that date and came to Amboy late last evening to visit friends when he was taken in custody and turned over to the county authorities.

Jones, Amboy bachelor, came to Dixon December 7 and told a story of being kidnapped and robbed by Bybee at his home then taken in his own car to a farm near Manistiquette, Mich., where he was held for several days.

According to the story told by Jones at that time, he was asleep at his home in Amboy on the night of November 16, when he was aroused by a man who sought entrance. Upon going to the door, Jones recognized Bybee and opened the door to admit him, when Jones was struck over the head and rendered him unconscious. When he regained consciousness, he said, he found that his pockets had been picked, his keys and money amounting to about $67 being missing.

Alleged Victim's Story
When I regained consciousness, Bybee was holding me down on the floor with one hand and he tied my hands with pieces of rag, then blindfolded me and picked me up off the floor and placed me on the bed," Jones related to State's Attorney Keller and Sheriff Fred Richardson.

"Bybee appeared to have been drinking. He went out of the house started my car and then came back and carried me out, placing me on the floor in the back of the car. He drove out of Amboy and some where north of Oregon, stopped and removed the blindfold and told me that if I made any noise he would cut me with a sharp knife, that he showed me. He offered me a drink from a bottle, which I refused, then started on again going north on route 2 to Rockford."

Near Rockford, the rags which bound Jones wrists were cut loose with the knife and the victim of the abduction was told to pretend blindness when stopped at service stations for gasoline and oil and was again warned against making an outcry. The upproceed to a farm near Manistiquette, Mich., where Jones said he was taken to a farm and introduced to a man named Johnson, who appeared to be well acquainted with Bybee, arriving about 10 o'clock at night of the same day he was abducted from his home in Amboy.

Car Was Wrecked
According to his narrative, Jones was repeatedly offered drinks at the Johnson farm and after remaining there for a short time, was again ordered into his own car which was driven by Bybee. After a short time, and while the driver was proceeding at a speed of about 50 miles an hour, Bybee applied the emergency brake as the car rounded a curve intentionally wrecking the machine which turned end over end. Jones said that he sustained cuts and bruises on his right leg which necessitated his removal to a Manistiquette hospital, where he received medical attention, and he was then taken back to the Johnson farm where he was bedfast for several days. Bybee was only slightly injured in the wreck, according to the story told by Jones.

He was then removed to another farm near Manistiquette where Bybee's brothers lived and remained there for a few days convalescing from his injuries. Bybee disappeared suddenly and Jones never saw him again. Later, a Michigan county official visited Jones, according to his own story, compelling him to sign notes for his board and room at the farm where he last stayed and for the ticket for his railroad fare from Manistiquette to Mendota, where he arrived Sunday morning, December 6. The following day, he came to Dixon and told his story to the State's Attorney and Sheriff and swore out a warrant charging Bybee with the larceny of the sum of money. Jones has been making his home in Mendota of recent weeks and he was being sought today to appear in Dixon in the prosecution of Bybee.

Son Of Gardner's
Mayor Is Missing

Morris, Ill., July 9—(AP)—Search was being made today for Arthur Wright, 13-year-old son of Mayor and Mrs. Arthur E. Wright of Gardner, a village 20 miles south east of here. The boy has been missing since 4 o'clock Friday afternoon when section hands on the Alton railroad saw him walking southward.

Young Wright was clad in blue overalls, bareheaded and barefoot. Sheriff John Perucca of Grundy county directed the search.

Illinoisans Are Scratching Like
Members of A. E. F.

Springfield, Ill., July 9—(AP)—This is a great year for bugs. Insects that have always heretofore been perfectly satisfied with life on the farm are showing signs of restlessness and starting a new farm-to-city movement.

Take the oat louse, for example. Lots of city folks are taking more than they would like, observes A. Surratt, Federal Agricultural Statistician. Oat lice have always been known to add a few members to their families each year, but this year, Surratt says, they are multiplying. He called 1932 the most prolific bug year in a decade, and warned the residents of Illinois cities that the little pests have spread from country road to city street to infest the eyes, ears, head and clothing of the townspeople.

One Mattison resident said he drove through a cloud of oat lice so thick they covered his windshield and he had to stop and brush them off.

Oat lice do no particular damage to crops, Surratt said, but they are one of the most annoying pests to the townspeople.

The federal statistician offered no campaign strategy for the war on bugs, but hinted it would start from scratch in commenting on reports that Illinoisans were scratching like members of the A. E. F., fighting crotches, because of the big crop of "oat lice."

Whiteside Convict
Escaped From Farm

Joliet, Ill., July 9—(AP)—Two convicts escaped from the prison farm last night but William Cushing, 32-year-old robber from Cook county was recaptured near Batavia this morning.

His companion, Frank Edwards, alias Jack Kinney, 46, was still missing today. Edwards was sent to the penitentiary December 5, 1921 from Whiteside county for a one to 30 year term for burglary and larceny. A week ago Cushing was taken to the honor farm and became Edwards' cellmate. They escaped sometime after midnight, apparently having obtained a key. Five guards were sent in pursuit but failed to find Edwards. Cushing was sent here from Cook county June 6, 1929 for robbery with a gun and was serving a term of one year to life.

POST OFFICE'S
SUB-STATION IS ROBBED FRIDAY

Stranger Got $100 From Cash Drawer At The Finkler Grocery

A bold daylight robbery was committed yesterday afternoon shortly after 3 o'clock when a roughly dressed stranger walked into the Finkler grocery store on College avenue between Second and Third streets and reaching over a counter, opened a cash drawer, removed about $100 and then walked out again. The drawer contained money belonging to the post office department, a sub-station being maintained at the Finkler store. Police scoured the city until dark but were unable to find any trace of the stranger, whom several women and children observed after he had left the store and to some of whom he passed the time of day as he walked on about his business, apparently looking for a place to hide.

Was In No Hurry.
Frank Finkler, who was in charge of the store, was in the rear watching decorators at work when a man described as being about 35 years of age, wearing blue overalls, with stripes, a jumper, a cap and carrying a bundle under his arm, walked into the store. Mr. Finkler did not go into the store at once and the stranger presumably reached over the counter, opened the cash drawer, lifted out the contents amounting to a hundred dollars, placed this in his pocket and then walked out.

Upon entering the store, Mr. Finkler observed the stranger leaving the building and at once he discovered the open cash drawer and upon investigating ascertained that it had been emptied of its contents. He started in pursuit of the stranger, who had walked south on College avenue to Third street, then turned east, going only a short distance when he started toward Second street, walking through lots. He spoke to several women and children, commenting upon the fine weather, as he passed through lots and gardens, taking his own time. Mr. Finkler did not pursue the suspect further, but hastened back to the store and telephoned the police department.

The cash register used for the postal sub-station was the only thing disturbed in the store. An other cash drawer serves the grocery department but this was not molested and the stranger did not tamper with any of the stock of groceries.

Pioneer Palmyran
Died Early Today

Word was received today of the death at an early hour this morning of Charles Eckles, 91 years old, of Marshalltown, Ia.

Mr. Eckles was one of the first of the Palmyra township boys to answer the call of his country in the United States army during the Civil War, enlisting in Co. D 34th Illinois Regiment, and later became Captain. After the war he was prominent in civic affairs, in both city and state, and served both houses of the Iowa legislature. He was a brother-in-law of Austin and Warren Powers, and had been in failing health since the death of his wife, Alvira Powers Eckles.

The funeral arrangements have not been completed pending word from relatives, but interment will be in the Prairieville cemetery beside his wife. It is probable that the funeral will be either Monday or Tuesday.

Missing Ketch Is Found: Crew Safe

New York, July 9—(AP)—Six amateur seamen in the ketch Curlew sailed safely toward New York today while the Coast Guard called off one of the biggest sea hunts in recent years.

The Curlew, missing since she sailed June 25 in a race from Montauk, Long Island, toward Bermuda, was spotted last night by the Coast Guard patrol boat, Nantuxet, 95 miles southeast of Nantuxet Island. She was under her own sail and her crew was safe.

Dirty weather apparently prevented the Curlew from reaching Bermuda. Twenty-five other yachts which started with her had reported bad sailing conditions. More than 100 vessels, the naval dirigible Akron and several airplanes had been searching for the ketch.

"War Is Certain"
Says Sen. Lewis

Washington, July 9—(AP)—Senator Lewis (D-Ill.) charged on the floor of the Senate today that failure of the disarmament conference to reach an agreement was deliberate on the part of European nations and presaged a war "between certain of the nations."

Dr. E. L. De Golyer, New York geologist, believes the secrets hidden under the waters of the sea can be exposed by dynamiting and blowing deep sea life and vegetation to the surface.

SLAYER OBJECT
MANHUNT TODAY
IN NO. INDIANA

Forced Toledo, Ohio
Man To Help Him
Make His Escape

Toledo, O., July 9—(AP)—Accused of a series of holdups and kidnappings and a murder, James Storey of St. Paul, Minn., one of a bandit gang of three brothers, was being hunted in northern Indiana today after forcing a Toledo Ohio, man to help him escape.

Storey late last night kidnapped John Hova and his nine-year-old son, William, and compelled them to drive him to South Bend, Ind. Earlier in the evening Storey shot and critically wounded Dr. Martin prominent Toledo physician, while police were hunting the gunman for the slaying of Marshal Jay Davis of North Baltimore, O.

Hova and his son were released unharmed at South Bend. Two of Storey's brothers, Bert, 19, and Maney, 17, are under arrest. Bert was probably fatally wounded when he and James engaged in a gun fight with Marshal Davis yesterday. Manley was alleged to have accompanied the other two brothers in a holdup the day before. Bert at first told police his companions were James Wilson of New York, and Manley Gorman, but later admitted they were his brothers.

MUSIC TEACHER OF STERLING IS SUICIDE BY GAS

Miss Mabel Phillips Is Found Dead In Kitchen
Of Her Home

The body of Miss Mabel Phillips, aged 48, well known Sterling musician, was found in the gas-filled kitchen of her home, 612 First avenue, late Friday afternoon by neighbors who became alarmed by their failure to see her about the house, where she lived alone, during the day.

A note on the kitchen table, near which Miss Phillips' body was found in a chair, stated she was taking her own life because she could not bear further pain from an infected jawbone. Last night she sued Dr. I. B. Carothers of Sterling for damages, alleging a broken jaw bone resulted from the extraction of a molar by the dentist, but the jury found the dentist not guilty.

Was Successful Teacher
Miss Phillips was a successful teacher of the piano and organ, and was formerly organist at the First Presbyterian church in Sterling. She was a member of that church, the Sterling Woman's Club and the Mendocino Club.

Funeral services will be held at the Melvin funeral home in Sterling at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Rev. Chester M. Irwin of the Presbyterian church officiating, and with burial in Riverside cemetery.

The deceased had no immediate relatives, nearer than several cousins. She was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Phillips of Sterling and was born in Denver, Colorado.

EVERYBODY IN
NURSE'S TRIAL
IS UNDER GUARD

Receipt of Threats By Principals Leads To Precautions

Los Angeles, July 9—(AP)—Myrtle Joan St. Pierre, attractive, brunette nurse, may know before the day is over the jury's verdict in her $200,000 breach of promise suit against David Hutton, choir singer, for his alleged jilting her to marry the evangelist, Almerie Semple McPherson. Only the instructions to the jury by Superior Judge Lester W. Roth remained before the jury began its deliberations.

The special Saturday session of court found both principals in the case, the courtroom and defense counsel under special guard.

Willed Andrews, attorney for Hutton, reported police he had received threats of violence or death over the telephone.

"You have talked too much," Andrews said a voice over the telephone told him. "We have just killed Roy Watkins. We got him and you are next with Mark Jones and the other fellow."

Police were inclined to believe the threat was the work of a fanatic, although they were unable to get in touch with Watkins, a private investigator of Angeles Temple, of which Mrs. Hutton is pastor. He is reported at his home to be out of town. The "Mark Jones and the other fellow" referred to are other defense attorneys.

Arguments were completed yesterday. In them, Hutton heard himself described as "a parasite" on Almerie's Temple, and the nurse listened to his attorney brand her as an "unchaste woman."

Is Sent To Prison
Day After Marriage—

Oregon, Ill., July 9—(AP)—Married at Morrison Wednesday to Edith Akey, 19, Garvie Crandall returned to Oregon after a one day honeymoon and was sentenced by Judge William Emmerson to serve from one to five years in Pontiac reformatory for complicity in burning his automobile to collect insurance. Crandall, who is 21, said good-bye to his bride today and was taken to Pontiac.

LAUSANNE PACT
DEPENDS ON U.
S. RECEPTION

Its Success Depends On Scaling Down War
Debts Due U. S.

Washington, July 9—(AP)—A declaration that the United States had not changed its attitude on war debts since June, 1931, was made by the State Department today at about the same time a demand was made in the Senate to know if any representative of the government had expressed a willingness to consider any further reduction in the debts.

The State Department called attention to one issued by President Hoover on June 20, last year in which he said he was opposed to cancellation but that he was certain the American people had no desire to extract any sum beyond the capacity of any debtor to pay.

Opposed To Change
Senator McKellar (D. Tenn.), introduced a resolution calling attention to press reports that the government had expressed a willingness to consider a further reduction and demanded to know if the reports were true and "if so by what authority any representative of the United States has taken such action."

McKellar pointed out that in approving the moratorium Congress had declared its opposition to further change in the debts. Another resolution was presented by Senator Gore (D. Okla.), requesting the State Department to ascertain if any nations indebted to the United States desired to transfer any colonial possessions to this country in lieu of cash payment of the debts.

Meanwhile, Senator Reed (R. Pa.), an administration supporter, reiterated his opposition to further revision of the debts. "Germanly, almost completely disarmed, has shown she is unable to pay reparations," Reed said. "The people owing us are paying many times for armaments what they are required to pay us."

Debts Owed U. S.
The amount of war debts owed the United States by the various foreign countries was listed by the Treasury as follows:

|           |                   |                |                  |
|-----------|-------------------|----------------|------------------|
| Armenia   | $19,019,107;     | Austria        | $23,752,217;    |
| Belgium   | $406,980,000;    | Czechoslovakia | $167,071,023;   |
| Estonia   | $16,466,012;     | Finland        | $8,604,000;     |
| France    | $3,863,650,000;  | Great Britain  | $4,398,000,000; |
| Greece    | $31,516,000;     | Hungary        | $1,938,750;     |
| Italy     | $2,004,900,000;  | Latvia         | $6,888,664;     |
| Lithuania | $6,197,627;      | Nicaragua      | $352,627;       |
| Poland    | $206,057,000;    | Rumania        | $83,860,560;    |
| Russia    | $317,953,000;    | Yugoslavia     | $61,625,000;    |
| total     | $11,598,000,000. |                |                  |

Lausanne, Switzerland, July 9—(AP)—The Lausanne conference on war debts and reparations was officially declared closed at 11:25 A. M. today after representatives of the principal powers had formally initialed the agreement to scale Germany's reparations bill down from the original $64,000,000,000 to approximately $712,500,000. This amounts to about one cent on the dollar.

The initialing ceremony was held in the Beau Rivage hotel where most of the sessions of the conference took place. Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald of Great Britain, whose treaty was credited with having brought about the agreement, presided.

MacDonald himself was first to use the gold pen on the document that represents of the largest financial settlements in history.

He was followed by Premier Renkin, Paul Hymans, and Emile Francqui for Belgium; Sir John Simon representing the British Dominions; Antonio Mosconi for Italy; Premier Herriot, M. Germain-Martin for France; August Zaleski for Poland; Ambassador Shigeru Yoshida for Japan and Chancellor von Papen, Ambassador von Neurath and Count Schwerin von Krosigk for Germany.

Two Committees Named
Two committees were created before the conference adjourned. The first committee was to deal with non-German reparations. M. Theunis of Belgium was named its chairman. M. Bonnet of France was elected chairman of the second committee, which is to deal with Danubian problems.

Sir John Simon and M. Germain-Martin read statements suspending the intra-European war debts until the new agreement is ratified by the conference.

WIDOW OF YOUNG
REYNOLDS KNOWS
NOTHING AT ALL

Says Her Mind Was Complete Blank 40 Hours
Before His Death

BULLETIN

Winston Salem, N. C., July 9—(AP)—A Coroner's jury investigating the shooting to death of Smith Reynolds, tobacco heir, today ordered Mrs. Libby Holman Reynolds and Albert Walker, friend of the dead youth, held as material witnesses pending a resumption of the inquest Monday afternoon.

Winston Salem, N. C., July 9—(AP)—The late Smith Reynolds' flying companion, Albert (AB) Walker, was held under police guard as a material witness today while authorities tried to clear up the tobacco heir's death by a bullet last Wednesday.

The secret inquest into Reynolds' death was resumed this morning behind the locked gates of the estate.

Vying for interest with the holding of Walker was testimony given yesterday by the boy millionaire's widow, Libby Holman, whose singing of "Moanin' Low" raised her to the top ranks of Broadway blues singers.

Lying distraught and ill in her bed in Reynolds, a huge estate, the black-haired singer told a Coroner's jury grouped about her that her mind contained a 40-hour blank, broken only by a "flash."

Awoke From Lapse.
In that flash, she said, she awoke from her strange mental lapse to see her 20-year-old husband press a pistol to his head. He called "Libby!" and pulled the trigger. That was about 1 A. M. He died at 5:25 A. M.

Miss Holman, who became the secret bride of the heir to $25,000,000 of the R. J. Reynolds tobacco fortune only a few months ago, swore that she could not remember anything else that happened from 11 P. M. Monday till Wednesday afternoon.

She testified, according to a formal announcement of the inquest proceedings, she had not been drinking, that she took no medicine and that she had suffered no accident which might affect her memory. She was described as offering no explanation for the mental lapse.

Walker In Custody.
Walker, who is 19 years old, was taken into custody at the request of the Coroner. The authorities said they wanted to keep witnesses from communicating with each other. None of the other witnesses at the inquest, which is to be resumed tonight, was held.

It was Walker who gave the first version of the tragedy to the public indicating it was a case of suicide. He said he heard the shot, rushed upstairs and found Reynolds dying on a sun porch adjoining the young couple's bedroom.

The testimony of three other witnesses was not disclosed. They were Walker, Dr. Fred McHanes, who attended Reynolds, and Blanche Yurka, New York actress who was a guest of Miss Holman at the time of the shooting.

To Tell Of Party.
She was expected to relate details of a gay party which broke up only a few minutes before the shooting. The party, it was understood, was in honor of the 21st birthday of C. H. Hill, of Winston Salem. Walker, Mrs. Yurka and C. Raymond Kramer of Flushing, L. I., were among the guests who had not left the house before the shooting. They, along with the other guests, are under subpoena, and officials said efforts were being made to prevent any inter-communication.

Coroner Dalton, immediately after the death, called it a suicide, but Sheriff Transou Scott, failing to find a motive, refused to drop the investigation.

The only possible suicide motive advanced so far has been the rumor, according to the Coroner, that Reynolds and his wife had a marital rift a few days ago when Reynolds learned she was of Jewish extraction.

Backlog in Steel
Orders Decreases

New York, July 9—(AP)—Unfilled orders of United States Steel Corporation decreased 142,394 tons in June to a total of 2,034,768 tons. This was the fifteenth consecutive month's decrease and established another record low since the corporation has been reporting unfilled business.

A drop in the backlog is usually recorded in June, and this year, more than in any recent year, the evidence has been strong that buying of steel products lagged behind even the very low operating rate of the corporation's mills. Over the last few years the tonnage drop from May to June has averaged around 100,000 tons.

The last increase in backlog reported by the corporation was in March, 1931.

Sex and mental and physical traits of unborn children may be determined by tests being conducted by Dr. John Belline, expert on heredity, of the Carnegie Institution of Washington. He is experimenting with genes, thought to carry hereditary characteristics.

Terse Items of News Gathered in Dixon During Day

BAND CONCERT SUNDAY.
The Dixon Junior Band will play a concert on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock on the lawn at the Adam Fazzi home near the cement plant, Director W. H. Flamm announces.

CASE CONTINUED.
Roy Prunty, formerly of Amboy appeared before Judge Leech in the County Court this morning, to answer to a charge of child abandonment, for which he was arrested on a farm near Eureka, Ill. last evening. Prunty was released on his own recognizance until next Saturday, the case being continued.

SPRINKLER SCHEDULE.
Members of the fire department provided cooling showers for about a hundred Dixon kiddies for one hour yesterday afternoon, the attendance increasing daily at the several locations where the sprinklers are operated. Fire Chief William Mitchell will have the sprinklers at the following locations at 3:30 Monday afternoon:
Crawford avenue and Ninth street; Van Buren avenue and Fourth street; Jefferson and Morgan streets.

REPUBLICANS TO TRY TO CHOOSE
COMMITTEEMAN

State Committee Called To Meet Thursday In Chicago

Springfield, Ill., July 9—(AP)—Republican State Committeemen will resume their battle to name a new National Committeeman for Illinois at a meeting in Chicago next Thursday, local leaders of the party made known today.

Notices of the session were sent out from Chicago today by State Chairman Franklin J. Stranisky. The necessity of selecting a National Committeeman fell upon the State Committee, after the Illinois delegation to the national Republican convention became deadlocked and was unable to select a committeeman.

The vote of the convention delegates was almost evenly divided between Col. Frank L. Smith of Dwight, campaign manager for former Governor Small and Governor Louis L. Emmerson.

After 34 ballots Col. Smith had 27 votes, Governor Emmerson, 26; Roy O. West, 6. On some of the ballots, George P. Harding of Chicago, received scattered support.

Chairman Stranisky said that voting at the meeting next week will be in accordance with the number of Republican votes cast in each congressional district at the April primary.

Sammons' Case Is Under Advisement

Woodstock, Ill., July 9—(AP)—Into the early hours of the morning today attorneys for James (Fur) Sammons, public enemy and convicted slayer, carried a seven-hour argument before Circuit Judge Edward Shurtleff to gain the gangster freedom from prison.

At the conclusion, Judge Shurtleff announced he would take their petition for release on a writ of habeas corpus under advisement and rule next Friday or Saturday. He expressed belief he had no jurisdiction in the case, however.

Sammons was convicted of murder and sentenced to die on the gallows in 1933 but the sentence was commuted to life imprisonment, then to 50 years and he was finally released on parole from the state penitentiary at Joliet in 1923, to be returned in 1930.

Counsel for Sammons—W. C. Smith and David Joselyn, Sr.—centered their fight on a ruling of Attorney General Clegg, later upheld by the Supreme Court, that a convict whose original sentence of death had been commuted was not eligible for parole.

Peruvian Rebels
Are Bombed Today

Lima, Peru, July 9—(AP)—Loyal aviators bombed the O'Donnell barracks where a band of rebels had fortified themselves today, and dropped pamphlets urging the rebels to surrender.

A government report said the attack drove the rebels out of the barracks to the outskirts of Trujillo which they captured yesterday after a skirmish with the small military garrison.

Except for the region about Trujillo the rest of the country was quiet. Reinforcements sent to that town yesterday had not yet arrived.

CERMAK IMPROVED
Chicago, July 9—(AP)—A decided improvement in the condition of Mayor Anton J. Cermak was noted today by his physicians. The mayor recently was taken ill as a result of the strain of looking after the city's interests and of supervising Chicago's part in the national conventions of the Republican and Democratic parties.

OBJECTIONABLE
BILL IS PASSED
BY VOTE OF 43-31

A Presidential Veto Is Waiting Measure At White House

Washington, July 9—(AP)—Senate approval today completed congressional action on the $2,100,000,000 unemployment relief bill.

The vote was 43 to 31. It now goes to the White House for an almost certain veto from President Hoover.

As finally approved the bill provided for loans to individuals, the provision which aroused a sharp conflict between President Hoover and Speaker Garner.

These loans would be made by the Reconstruction Corporation from a fund of $1,500,000,000 created under the bill. Other provisions would set up a $300,000,000 fund under the Reconstruction Corporation for loans to states for direct relief of the jobless, and appropriate for a $322,000,000 public construction program.

Veto Is Delayed
There is little likelihood, however, that President Hoover will have an opportunity to veto the bill today. It has yet to be signed by Speaker Garner and the House is in recess over the week end. He must sign it during a session of the House.

Twenty-nine Democrats voted with fourteen Republicans to approve the conference report in the Senate. Twenty-five Republicans, five Democrats and Shipstead, the lone Farmer-Laborite, opposed adoption of the report.

The five Democrats opposing the bill were: Bailey, North Carolina; Black, Alabama; Connally, Texas; Glass, Virginia; and Gore, Oklahoma.

Sidetracked Issues
Presentation of this conference report in the Senate for the time being sidetracked two other issues—bills to expand the currency and to legalize beer of higher alcoholic content.

The beer bill by Senator Binghams (R. Conn.) temporarily was displaced by Senator Glass' (D. Va.) proposal for currency expansion. Senator Borah, Idaho independent Republican, offered the Glass bill as a substitute to a vote, but both were set aside awaiting disposition of the relief measure.

Speaking of Traffic

Here's a jam which motorists of dear ol' Lunnion often find themselves in. The scene is set at Blackfriars Bridge London, one of the busiest traffic centers of the city. The bridge crosses the Thames and resulting traffic tangles at either end tie up traffic for more than a mile. Trolleys, buses, wagons, trucks and passenger cars take part in the mix up.

national parliaments. This statement was made at the behest of the Italian delegation.

"Great transfers of post-war sums," Prime Minister MacDonald said in his closing address, "have not been a punishment to one nation, but a burden upon all."

"The most self-sustained country in the world—the United States—has been hit as hard as we."

Begins New Chapter
"This begins a new chapter. We have closed one book and opened a new one. Agreement has not been easy. There are too many old memories which are not easy to uplift."

"Lausanne must put into effect a universal framework. Europe cannot live alone. The arrangements signed here must have a response elsewhere."

He asked the Premiers of the various countries to go forward during 1932 and 1933 with great courage. Referring to the Far East he asked for "a straight game of candor."

"Our friends in the Far East," he said, "must show the homage to the League of Nations as other countries do."

Await U. S. Action
After the conference was officially closed the delegates drank a toast to world prosperity.

The convention does not go into effect, however, until it is ratified by the parliaments of the countries which, by an unwritten agreement, will not take place until after the United States reconsiders the question of scaling down the war debts due her from Europe.

The next step was expected to be a request from these powers to the United States to join in a parley to revise war debts.

The seal affixed to the agreement as the final act of the ceremony was more than 400 years old. It was originally used on the treaty of fraternity in 1525 between Freiburg and Berne, on the one hand, and Lausanne on the other.

Von Papen Hailed
In the meantime Chancellor von Papen was swamped with telegrams of congratulation from Germany. "Bravo!" said one signed by Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, former head of the Reichsbank and one of the most prominent German exponents of cancellation of the post-war obligations.

The agreement contains a preamble detailing the conference's efforts for peace and five resolutions outlining the terms of the settlement.

"The powers that have signed this treaty," the preamble said, "do not claim that the accomplishment at Lausanne, which will completely put an end to reparations, can by itself assure that era of peace which all nations desire."

But they do hope for an assurance that all these aims of such significance will be understood and appreciated by all pacific elements in Europe and in the world. They do hope that these accomplishments, so ardently attained, will be followed by fresh achievements."

Five Resolutions
The five resolutions were, briefly: (1)—An agreement regarding reparations between Germany and the former allies; (2) Conditional measures extending a moratorium on inter-governmental debts; (3) An agreement to assist Austria and the Danubian states which are in financial difficulties; (4) creation of a committee to study the grain problem in the Danubian states which are embarrassed by a huge grain surplus; and (5) creation of the machinery for a world economic conference under the auspices of the League of Nations.

There was nothing about a "gentlemen's agreement" linking reparations with war debts nor was there any reference to the "war guilt" clause of the Versailles Treaty.

Shortly after the agreement was announced last night a statement came from Washington saying the United States was now ready to consider any proposals its European debtors might make for the reconsideration of war debts settlements.

The agreement with Germany, containing the kernel of the settlement, provided that the German government shall turn over to the World Bank for International Settlements 3,000,000,000 marks (approximately $712,500,000) of redeemable 5 per cent bonds, their value based on "gold of the present standard of weight and fineness."

Hope That Any Of Its Crew Are Alive Is Almost Gone

BULLETIN

Cherbourg, France, July 9—(AP)—A diver descended to the sunken submarine Promethee today, knocked repeatedly on the hull and received no reply, a wireless message received from the rescue party by the Maritime Prefecture, said.

The submarine had been on the bottom more than 48 hours and there was little hope that any members of the crew remained alive.

Cherbourg, France, July 9—(AP)—The Italian salvage ships Artiglio and Rosta prepared today to attempt what many experts considered the almost impossible—the salvage of the sunken French submarine Promethee and the rescue of her crew, if any are alive.

The two salvage ships arrived at 10 A. M., and proceeded directly to the arsenal to take on equipment for the rescue attempt.

Vice-Admiral Le Do, chief of the Maritime Prefecture, said this morning it would be a most difficult task. "At the depth (the submarine is lying about 245 feet below the surface) the divers will be working in pitch darkness," he said.

"But we will first try to pass chains around the hull to permit the use of lifting gear and it might also be possible to drag the submarine to shallower water."

A nine-knot current in the Channel also hampered the rescue work.

Penn. And U. of C.
Oarsmen In Final

Worcester, Mass., July 9—(AP)—The strongest oars in the east and west, the Penn A. C. eight and the undefeated University of California crew, today will battle over Lake Quinsigamond's perfect 2,000-meter course for the honor of wearing the American shield in the Olympic regatta at Long Beach, Cal. next month.

The clubmen from Philadelphia entered the final event with a record-breaking victory over Yale's capable eight. Penn led the Elis by a length and a half as it crossed the finish line in 6 minutes, 13.5 seconds, a performance that wiped out the 6:20 course record set by the 1920 Navy crew.

California, which climaxed an undefeated west coast spring season with a smashing victory at Poughkeepsie, tounded a nighting Columbia graduate eight by a length and a quarter to qualify for today's struggle.

TODAY

TRITE old adage, yet still as true,
For counsel as when the thought was new.

A little rhyme with a short refrain
That sings its wisdom over again.

With clearness that brooks of no delay,
Is sweetly urging, "Be glad today."

Persuasively rousing to near delight,
Revealing pleasure, deemed out of sight.

It bans our protests, ignores our fears,
Persistently urging smiles for tears.

It gaily chases dull care away
With gentle advice, "Be glad today."

The world's consoler has never said,
"Tomorrow gives us our daily bread."

With love bright visions he wisely taught
Tomorrow's need claim no anxious thought.

Today holds all that love has planned,
Unfearing, blithe, meets its demand "Be glad today."

—Florence E. Buck.

Announcement of the marriage to be performed on July 12, at the Ladd Federated church, of Miss Lauretta Bradley to Rev. G. B. Switzer, of Ladd, was made at an announcement party held at the R. E. Davies home in Spring Valley Friday. A 1 o'clock luncheon was served. After September 1st the couple will reside in Victoria, British Columbia, Canada.

Miss Bradley is a daughter of Mrs. Anna Bradley of LaMoille, and a sister of Mrs. R. E. Davies. She has been residing in Spring Valley and teaching in the Ladd elementary schools during the past three years.

Rev. G. B. Switzer is a son of Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Switzer, of Victoria, British Columbia, where the couple will reside following a western trip after their marriage. Both are well known throughout this vicinity. Rev. Switzer was ordained a minister at the University of British Columbia, Vancouver, Canada, seven years ago and for the past four years has been at the Ladd Federated church.

Enjoyed Picnic at A. I. Hardy Home

Approximately one hundred friends from Mendota enjoyed a picnic Thursday evening on the lawn of the A. I. Hardy home, on route 5. After the picnic supper there followed a program consisting of two short plays, several stunts, readings and music. This is an annual affair, when the Hardys greet their friends from their former home.

By Mrs. Alexander George
A JULY DINNER MENU

Stuffed Peppers
Escalloped Potatoes
Beet and Horseradish Relish
Fruit Salad
French Dressing
Raspberry Cobbler
Cream

Stuffed Peppers, Serving 6
6 large green peppers
1-2 cup corn
1 egg
1-2 cups bread crumbs
4 tablespoons butter, melted
1-3 teaspoon pepper
1-2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons chopped onions
2 tablespoons chopped green peppers

Use knife and cut off tops of peppers. With scissors cut out and discard seeds and pulp. Rinse well in cold water. Mix rest of ingredients. Lightly stuff the pepper. Arrange in small pan. Add 1-2 inch of water, bake 30 minutes in moderate oven. Baste frequently.

Beets and Horseradish Relish
4 cups chopped cabbage
4 cups chopped cooked beets
1 cup grated horseradish
1-2 cups sugar
2-2 tablespoons salt
1 teaspoon pepper
3 cups vinegar

Mix ingredients. Bring to boiling point, pour into sterilized jars and seal at once.

Fruit Salad
1-2 cup pears, diced
1 cup diced pineapple
1 cup diced peaches
Chill the ingredients. Combine and serve on lettuce.

Raspberry Cobbler
3 cups berries
1 cup sugar
2 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 tablespoons butter
1-2 cup water
Blend berries, sugar and flour. Add rest of ingredients. Pour into shallow, buttered pan. Cover with crust.

Crust
2 cups flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 tablespoon sugar
1-4 teaspoon salt
5 tablespoons fat
2-3 cup milk

Mix dry ingredients. Cut in fat and add milk. When soft dough forms, pat out and fit over berry mixture. Make 4 holes in top. Bake 25 minutes in moderate oven. Serve warm.

Illinois Football Star, Working In Dixon, Is Married

Kept secret for months, the marriage of Gil Berry, captain of the University of Illinois football team, to Winifred Flint of Chicago, his campus sweetheart, was revealed yesterday.

Married at Wheaton during the Easter vacation, the couple kept the wedding a secret when they returned to school. Only the bride's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Flint of 1721 Thorndale ave. were informed.

Berry is working at Dixon, and is playing shortstop with the Beier's Loafers in the city soft ball league to get into condition for the football season. His bride is living with her parents in Chicago. Next fall, when they return to Urbana, their marriage will not affect their scholastic standing.

The two are among the most popular members of the senior class at Illinois. In addition to being a second "Red" Grange, Berry is a member of Phi Delta Theta and is a leader in campus activities.

WALTER CHARLAND HERE FROM PARIS, FRANCE—

Walter Charland is home from his studies at the Grand Seminary, at Paris, France, to spend a vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Charland.

CORINTHIAN BIBLE CLASS TO MEET—

The Corinthian Bible Class will meet Monday evening with Miss Gladys Smith, 329 Lincoln Way.

Fashion Plaque

LITTLE silken footlets like this are a godsend to the woman who wishes to go in stockings comfortably. They are cut low enough not to show and have an elastic lined heel to keep them from slipping. Worn over fine hose, they serve as a protection.

Make Full Use of The Refrigerator

During hot weather every home-maker makes more and more demands upon her refrigerator to keep perishable foods in good condition. But the refrigerator offers more service than the mere preservation of foods toward simplified meal planning. Maximum service from a good refrigerator means that food can be prepared early in the morning and kept in perfect condition for later serving.

Planning is important if nourishing meals are provided. The first thing to do is to make out a list of favorite warm weather dishes. With this at hand many simple combinations suitable for refrigerator meals will suggest themselves immediately.

For first courses there are fruit cocktails which should be prepared hours before and thoroughly chilled, fruit soups made early in the day to be iced for hours and jellied soups quickly made from canned soups and kept on ice for several hours or even overnight to chill and become firm.

The salad course can be almost completely prepared in the cool of the morning. All salad materials are much nicer if allowed to chill thoroughly before serving, while salad dressings keep a week on ice and are ready for immediate use.

Main Dish May Be "Held Over"
Main dishes can be prepared, baked and kept in the refrigerator until wanted for reheating. Or choose a jellied meat loaf which can even be prepared the day before. Cold boiled tongue, boiled or baked ham are popular and can be chilled over night.

These menus for refrigerator meals are simple but interesting.

MENU 1—Jellied meat loaf, lettuce potatoes, corn on the cob, cucumber and lettuce salad, blackberry shortcake, milk, coffee.

The meat loaf can be prepared the day before and kept in the refrigerator. The potatoes can be made and stored in an airtight box until wanted for reheating. Corn on the cob will cook in eight minutes after the water boils. The shortcake is made of baking powder biscuit dough prepared for mixing with milk when needed for baking.

MENU 2—Cold sliced meat, potatoes reheated in cheese sauce, jellied cabbage salad, pineapple pudding, milk, coffee.

A cold roast of lamb or beef, cold boiled tongue, pressed corned beef, cold boiled or baked ham provide variety in the cold sliced meats. Potatoes are boiled in their jackets and kept in the ice box until wanted, when they are peeled and diced and reheated in a white sauce to which grated cheese has been added. Shredded cabbage, grated carrots and minced green peppers are added to a lime jelly and the mixture chilled all day in the refrigerator. Pineapple pudding is made early in the morning or the day before.

MENU 3—Casserole of peas and eggs, broiled tomatoes, stuffed pepper salad, fruit gelatin, ice-cream cookies, milk, coffee.

The casserole dish which consists of previously cooked peas and hard cooked eggs combined in layers with cream sauce is arranged in the buttered casserole and stored in the refrigerator all ready for baking when it is wanted. Thick slices of tomatoes are dipped in melted butter or bacon fat and then in seasoned flour. They are placed on a heat-proof platter all ready to broil while the main dish is baking. Green peppers are seeded and stuffed with cream cheese combined with chopped nuts and olives. These are chilled until ready to slice for the salad.

E. L. C. E. Meeting And Social Travelogue Thursday Eve

The regular monthly business meeting and social of the Evangelical League of Christian Endeavor of Grace Evangelical church forty in attendance. The business was held Thursday evening, with meeting was held at the church, in charge of the president, Miss Melvina Reuter. Following this Miss Mildred Hartman took charge of the social part, inviting them to go on a missionary tour to some of the Evangelical stations. First they went to Africa, stopping at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ford on First avenue where two African women, in the persons of Mrs. Archie Klein and Miss Rilla Webster greeted the guests as they came in through the jungles, inviting them to seats on the floor.

Beauty In The Bag!

Here's an undercover method of beating the beach cops' ban on changing from street attire to swim suits right at the water's edge. It's a bag made of heavy canvas with a draw string at both ends and pockets inside to hold the changed bathing suit or clothing. To prove its practicability, pretty Miss Alice Doll is seen making a quick change on a busy street near Los Angeles.

1933 R. N. A. Convention in Ashton, Officers Elected

The county convention of the Royal Neighbors held Wednesday afternoon and evening at Compton was very interesting and well attended.

The charter was draped in memory of deceased members, as one part of the work. The following county officers were elected for the coming year and it was decided that the county convention to 1933 be held at Ashton. The officers elected were:

County Oracle—Mrs. Bertha A. Krug, Ashton.
County Vice Oracle—Mrs. Minnie Miller, Dixon.
County Past Oracle—Mrs. Dora Fruin, Dixon.
County Recorder and Receiver—Mrs. Ada Lovell, Ashton.
County Cancellor—Mrs. Mary Snow, Paw Paw.

Past Matrons Club O. E. S. Has Outing

The Past Matrons' Club of Dorothy Chapter, O. E. S., enjoyed an outing at the Coe summer cottage yesterday, the ladies going up in the afternoon, and enjoying an afternoon at bridge. Mrs. Grover Hoberg was awarded the favor for high honors; Mrs. Will Ware received the second favor, and Mrs. Adolph Eichler received the consolation favor.

After a wild animal hunt and other games, refreshments of peanut sandwiches and cocoa were served, and a short talk on African missions was given by Mrs. Darrell Palmer. Next they moved on to the mission in the mountains of Kentucky at the A. W. Hartman home on North Galena avenue. There they were ushered in through the back door, into a lamp-light room furnished with chairs, boxes, etc., gathered from attic and basement. After a short talk on the Kentucky missions by the hostess, more games were enjoyed, among them a con hunt. Guests were then invited to the back lawn where corned beef baked beans, parched corn and spring water were enjoyed.

The last call was in Japan, at the home of Mrs. Nellie Rhodes, on Boyd street, where Japanese maids were in waiting. Here, too, seats were offered on the floor. After the games, tea and wafers were served. Some of the guests neglected the Japanese custom of removing their shoes upon entering the home.

These monthly meetings are usually very interesting and this one was no exception.

Art League Visits Artists at Grandy

A delegation of the Municipal Art League of Chicago were guests Thursday of Mr. and Mrs. Holger W. Jensen, at the Jensen studio in Grandy Thursday. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. John Nolf. Messrs. Jensen and Nolf are artists from the city who make their homes for the summer in Grand Detour where they enjoy sketching and painting the lovely rural scenes.

Mrs. Walter Seymour, first vice president of the League, escorted the party who had a glorious day on the banks of Rock River, and they greatly enjoyed an exhibition of pictures by the two artists, Jensen and Nolf. All members of the group are much in love with the beauties of Rock River Valley. It was the first visit to the quaint little village of Grand Detour for most of the party.

Interest in Epworth Institute at Franklin

Thursday night was spent at the Epworth League Institute at Franklin Grove. Rev. A. T. Stephenson, former pastor of the Dixon Methodist church, now of Riverside, being the Dean of the Institute. Mrs. C. C. Rorick of Dixon is dean of the girls.

About 350 people from the Rock River district were present for the fine entertainment given by the various groups attending the session.

Quite a number of Dixonites attended the Thursday evening session. Dr. Howard Musser returned missionary from India who has given several excellent talks gave an exceptionally fine one that night and last night also, his subject last evening being Mahatma Gandhi.

GLORIFYING YOURSELF BY ALICIA HART

There are twenty-eight muscles which control your mouth. Every time you make a move they get busy. When you are tired—and want the world to know it, or can't keep from letting the world know it—the 28 muscles always leave anyone any doubt about your fatigue. When you are disappointed they follow the downward slant. When you are cynical they take the down-hill slide. After a while the lines at the corners of your lips change into wrinkles. Youth is out. Age is in.

And it is high time to perk your lips into a gay smile and do something about it!

Cultivate the habit of smiling. No matter what happens, pretend that it's humorous. Grin, Giggle, Laugh. These movements raise the lips. They give your face an upward slant which is delightful to look at. Years are brushed away as though you hadn't lived them.

When you are using creams around your lips, press the corners of your mouth upward. Make your mouth so that it can't fall down on you, whether your new hat gets soaked in a summer rain, or some other girl gets the man you wanted. Smile!

Don't let your lips grow chapped. The effect is aging. Make-up cakes on chapped lips and gives your mouth the appearance of a painted mask, and a poorly painted one at that.

When you are applying lip rouge, beware of white lines. See that the artificial coloring is blended so skillfully that no one is able to see where it leaves off, no matter how widely you smile. Do not try to change your mouth. Just do the most you can with the one you have. A painted cupid's bow looks as artificial as it is, unless your lips have the original pattern for such a shape. Besides, when you smile your lips will stretch their own way and show that your mouth isn't what it tried to depict.

But if your mouth is using its own shape, a smile will make it lovelier.

Cultivate a sense of humor. Stop worrying. And your mouth will laugh at the years.

NEW YORK'S POLICE BASEBALL LEAGUE.

While politics industry and international affairs hold their place on the front page a lot of interesting and important news tends to get overlooked. There is for instance, the way in which the New York police force has organized a baseball league among some 5000 youthful Manhattan East Siders.

This affair, perhaps, can't compare in importance with such things as political conventions and reparations conferences. But it is, nevertheless, one of the most significant experiments any police department in the country has ever attempted.

The New York cops have helped these boys organize a baseball league, providing the umpires for the games, arranging schedules, keeping track of batting, fielding and pitching averages, finding fields for the players and seeing to it that everything runs smoothly. And they have not only enlisted 5000 boys, between the ages of 10 and 18, in their athletic clubs; the games played have drawn around 250,000 customers so far this year.

This program was announced by Police Commissioner Mulrooney as part of a crime-prevention campaign. It is about as wise a thing as any police department could hope to do.

In the first place, it gives young city lads something to do with their spare time. Youngsters who are playing baseball steadily don't have a great deal of time for corner pool room or speakeasy loafing. Furthermore, such things don't look so attractive to them. Nor is a lad to whom athletic greatness is something to be desired mightily quite as ready to make a hero out of a gangland big shot.

But there is another angle to it which is equally important. The boy in this New York baseball league is discovering that the cop is his friend, instead of growing up with the notion that the cop is an enemy to be outwitted. Anyone who has studied the growth of metropolitan gangs can tell you how helpful the growth of such an attitude could be.

These New York policemen have hit upon an extremely fine idea. The police of other cities could copy it to great advantage.

THE BORAH CASE.

It is rather hard to believe that Senator Borah will accept the proffered nomination of the Prohibition party. Senator Borah is a fervent and conscientious dry, and he does not find his party's platform in the least satisfactory; but no one familiar with recent political history can easily picture the Idaho senator running for the presidency at the head of a third party.

Senator Borah has always been his own boss, and various Republican presidents have learned to their sorrow that he is as likely to fight against his party's leader as for him. But never yet has Senator Borah bolted his party in a presidential year. His bolting usually takes place on the floor of the Senate.

It seems reasonably safe to assume that he will be no warmer to the third party idea this year than in years past.

A SALARY TOO SMALL.

Most state governments are having trouble because the salaries they have to pay seem too big; but New Jersey, by an odd quirk, is having trouble because one of its salaries is so small.

New Jersey has Quartermaster General E. Edward Murray on its rolls at $1 a year, a nominal compensation which recently replaced a $6000 salary. Paying a dollar-a-year salary ought to be easy enough—but New Jersey law provides that all state employees must be paid in semi-monthly checks. And now New Jersey's auditors are trying to find some way of dividing a dollar into 24 equal parts without either gyping the general or giving him more than he is entitled to.

It may be a hard little problem. But New Jersey would be happy if that were the extent of its payroll worries.

A HOPEFUL TREND.

Everyone is watching these days for signs of a brightening in the industrial sky. The Alexander Hamilton Institute believes it has seen one. It reports finding encouragement in the fact that prices of manufactured goods are at last beginning to decline more rapidly than the prices of raw materials.

The fact that there has been a wide gap between these two price ranges has acted to rob the raw material producers of purchasing power, and this has been one of the fundamental reasons for the steady decline in business activity. If the gap continues to narrow until a real price equilibrium is reached, a noticeable gain in commercial and industrial activity should follow in a short time.

The political programs of the Democrats, Republicans and Socialists, no matter how skillfully camouflaged, reflect only minor differences as to how to carry through American capitalistic program. In other words, how to give the wealth and privilege to the few in an unlimited degree.—Theodore Dreiser, writer.

WHEN SUN SHINES, SO DO THE STARS!

IRENE DUNNE

By NEA Service—

Hollywood, California July 9.—When the last scene has been shot and Hollywood faces the sun instead of the camera, she doesn't sacrifice any of her style. The stars are going outdoors, and doing it in costumes that are every bit as striking and glamorous as those that they wear when they are pretending they are somebody else.

There is a certain debonair charm and dash about their play clothes that give plenty of room for action without hampering their style in the least. Estelle Taylor knows that dark hair and eyes say twice as much when they have a bright color to add a lively sports touch. She lounges around the beach, or sits on the deck in brief black trunks that are topped by a huge bandana handkerchief that fastens around her neck.

Simplicity for the Links Lines that are so simple they are almost severe are Irene Dunne's choice for golf clothes. She goes around very effectively in white sports skirt, worn with a dark sweater that is belted and a knitted beret that matches looking quite like any co-ed might on any campus.

There is a little more drama to the beach togs that are preferred by Betty Boyd and Maxine Cantway. Betty wears a glorified pair of pajamas which have a long slit in the right trouser that doesn't interfere with any race she may enter along the western beaches. There is a dot so snug and so gay that it would be too startling for anything but a pair of pajamas. The suit, made with a bodice effect, has rolled straps of material that cross and wind their way across her shoulders. She carries Babbette, her dog, as a necessary finishing touch.

Betty Boyd goes twice as far when she swims away from the camera, whenever she wears her brief gay suit that fits in a bright, tight manner. It is a two piece affair with dark trunks and a striped waist that forgets about sleeves and ties around the neck in such a way that it doesn't interfere with any sun-tan plans that her shoulders may have.

Summer Chic Via White The famous Brown Derby restaurant in Hollywood is getting used to the sports costumes. Shirley Gray knows the effectiveness of simple white sports dresses that gain a deep touch of mystery by using high necks, short sleeves and no ornamentation except a belt. She wears white pumps, a white beret and gloves and carries a white pocketbook. Caryl Lincoln has a pair of white slacks fashioned from yachting cloth which she combines with a sweater shirt, in which the stripes go around in circles. A white beret and beach bag are her only accessories.

Claudette Colbert has more of her usual number of tricks up her sleeves in her new street dress that follows a jumper style. The voluminous sleeves that droop intriguingly are caught at the wrist and a scarf ties itself with a chic of its own, at her throat. The blouse is spattered with small polka dots and the jumper is dark. A small felt hat completes the ensemble adding an autumn note.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

For whither thou goest, I will go; and where thou lodgest, I will lodge; thy people shall be my people, and thy God my God.—Ruth 1:16.

True love is better than glory.—Thackeray.

All of the circus folks laughed loud, and gathered in a watching crowd, to see the little Tinies crawl out of the great big net.

One fellow shouted, "My, oh my, you dropped down right out of the sky. I've seen a lot of strange things, but that is the strangest yet."

The Tinies all sat still a while and then each one began to smile. "Gee, we were lucky," Scouty said. "We dodged an awful mess. 'Twas well that net was right down here, or we'd have wrecked ourselves. I fear. From now on, we had better stay upon the ground, I guess."

"Oh, no!" snapped Windy. "That's no fun! Just think of all the things we've done, and yet we all are here. I'll take all of this rides I can."

"But, come, let's get out of this net. All of the folks are cheering yet. We'll have to find the owner of the balloon and pay the man." The owner heard the last remark and shouted, "Oh, you had your

DISEASE AND INTELLIGENCE

A recent interesting study of the British Medical Research Council revealed that the only diseases which affect intelligence are diseases of the brain.

In other words, illnesses both acute and chronic, which do not involve the brain, do not affect the normal development of the intelligence of the child.

Furthermore, not in every case of brain disease is intelligence impaired. To affect intelligence appreciably, the brain must be extensively involved.

Thus, a cerebral tumor, for example, or a cerebral abscess, does not always impair intelligence. On the other hand, inflammations of the brain, the so-called encephalitis, almost invariably are followed by mental deterioration.

A reassuring feature, the report states, is the demonstration given that acute or chronic disease, other than cerebral, even when it involves long periods of invalidism and absence from school, has little if any harmful effect on intelligence.

Acute disease, indeed, may have a stimulating effect, as measured by the speed of reactions to intelligence tests.

Children usually reacted better when feverish, as during the acute stages of pneumonia, and better during active chorea (St. Vitus dance) than after all evidence of the disease had disappeared.

These studies, made on 1000 young patients, consisted in the administration of standard intelligence tests. The showing of the children was compared to that made by a comparable group of normal, well youngsters.

The distribution of intelligence in the 1000 sick children closely paralleled that of the well children.

It was observed that the children of better than average intelligence were also constitutionally superior.

A BOOK A DAY

FINDS AMERICA IN NO DANGER OF REVOLUTION

The chance for a revolution in the United States is extremely remote. Americans are still wealthy, still optimistic, still inherently conservative; it is highly improbable that the troubles born of the depression will lead to any violent upheaval.

This is the conclusion of the German economist, M. J. Bonn, in his new book, "The Crisis of Capitalism in America."

Nevertheless, Herr Bonn thinks the capitalistic structure in America may be in for a far-reaching change.

Americans, he points out, are not worshippers of the past. They are always willing to try something new to experiment, to discard old institutions and try to devise something better.

Furthermore, he asserts, they are watching Communistic Russia with acute interest and despite the profound cleavage between Russian and American theories, he believes that the American people—because of American standardization, mass production and so on—would actually be readier to embrace a modified Communism than the people of western Europe.

Herr Bonn has written a very acute and wise analysis of the present situation in the United States—one of the best I have seen all year. You will find it illuminating and provocative, very much worth reading.

For more than 78 years the officers and directors of this Bank have endeavored to make the name "City National Bank" a synonym for financial strength and reliability, and to aid in the development of the community by assisting and financing enterprises that justified financial assistance.

The benefits of thrift have been consistently advocated, and many accounts which were started with small amounts have increased into some of our largest deposits. During the period of more than three score and ten years in which this Bank has been operating, many unforeseen conditions have arisen, but the Bank has continued to grow constantly, and now looks forward to the future with the hope and expectation of still greater possibilities in the future.

FLIERS WILL GO TO MOSCOW FOR PLANE REPAIRS

Mattern And Griffin To Determine Future Course Then

By Stanley P. Richardson
Associated Press Staff Correspondent.

(Copyright, 1932, by The Associated Press.)
Moscow, July 9 (AP)—James Mattern and Bennett Griffin, daring American round-the-world fliers, whose adventure failed when they were forced down into a peat bog near Borisov, Russia, Thursday morning, are coming to Moscow tomorrow, they told me over a shaky telephone line from Borisov today.

They said they would decide after reaching Moscow whether they will continue their flight around the world or return to the United States by way of Europe.

It was their first contact with an American since they landed at the remote Russian town at 4 A. M. Thursday, and damaged their plane, the "Century of Progress," in the bog.

"Neither of us was hurt except for a few scratches," they said. "We are coming to Moscow tomorrow by train and are shipping parts of our plane there for repairs."

Poor Connection
It was a conversation under ex-cruciating difficulties. For over 24 hours it had not been possible to get a call through from Moscow to Borisov at all. When the connection was finally made it was impossible for the fliers to hear me, or vice versa.

So the conversation had to be carried on through operators acting as relays and this made it necessary to translate from English into Russian and again into English, both ways, from me to them and vice versa.

Technical difficulties with the controls of the plane forced us to land," they said. "Then the plane turned over as we came down in the bog."

"We're both all right, but very sorry we failed in our effort to beat the round-the-world record. We were forced down just after we thought we had completed the most difficult part of the trip and we were making excellent time."

Plane Turned Over
"Even then we would have been all right if the soft ground hadn't caused the ship to turn over. As it is, the plane is not very seriously damaged and we think we can repair it."

"We spent all day yesterday disassembling and packing the motor and we are freighting the damaged parts to Moscow in the hope it can be repaired there so we won't have to abandon the ship. We are going back to Minsk this evening for our luggage and we will take the express train from there, arriving in Moscow tomorrow morning."

The fliers said they spent last night in the only hotel in Borisov. It is a very small structure, but they said they were very comfortable and added they were faring very well under the care of the Soviet Civil Aviation Society representatives who were sent from Moscow to assist them.

At this point the connection, possibly to begin with, broke down entirely.

So "Fort Necessity" Won't Be Forgotten—

Fort Necessity made famous by a stirring episode of the French and Indian wars, lives again. The stockade and block house which served British troops as a defense against the French forces and redskins at the Battle of Great Meadows, have been reconstructed on the National Highway near Uniontown, Pa., as seen in the upper photo. Pictured below at the dedication ceremonies are, left to right, Major Emanuel E. Lombard, military attaché of the French embassy; Paul B. Malone of the Third Corps Area, U. S. Army; and Col. Fitzmaurice Day, representing the British Embassy.

THE MEMORIES OF DAYS

Dedicated to the Boys who saw service overseas during the World War, and their parents.

By FRANK W. MILLAR

From the day of birth to years around twenty.
Things have happened with memories a plenty.

BABYHOOD DAYS—when you would coo and fret,
But do what you may, you were Mother's Pet.

CHILDHOOD DAYS—with its frolic and fun,
And the greatest ambition, a drum, or a gun.

BOYHOOD DAYS—well I was just wishing,
To renew those days and we could go fishing.

YOUTHFUL DAYS—with study, hopes and endeavor,
The binding of ties, with thoughts never to sever.

MANHOOD DAYS—when all seriousness begins,
And you lay aside all your earlier whims.

You plan for the future, ambition has grown,
When into your pathway of life was thrown.

A thrust at our Nation, by a Foreign foe,
It called for your manhood, surely you'll go.

Then the fond farewells to you and to me,
As the transport headed across the sea.

Over there, somewhere, midst the cannon's din,
You're thinking, and thinking, only of him.

In patient silence you're waiting to hear,
And hoping the end of that struggle is near.

When some will return to a welcoming shore,
While others, may never, may never more.

And you utter a prayer for that dutiful son,
"Thy Kingdom come; Thy will be done."

THE WAY

Wake me early nurse, I want the day long,
I know a path that leads to a shady nook.

I made one summer day, when I was strong,
To where a spring starts a winding brook.

How well, I know the way, that leads to these
Along green ferns, and gay flowers sway.

Their foliage in the cooling breeze,
I would like once again, Nurse to go that way.

Once I went a dusty, single wind-blown road,
When the air was sweet with flowers.

From the way, there hopped a humble toad,
The clouds hung low, a welcome for showers.

To relieve the dropping leaves and fawns,
From the way, baby quail hid, that day.

In fearful silence, the peace to let me pass,
Afterwards I was sorry, I had gone that way.

(Now, we think he heard an angel's song,
When it was yet morning,
And the sun was shining in;
He smiled, and whispered softly,
"Wake me early, I want the day long!"

Sidelights In News In Capital Of United States

By HERBERT PLUMMER

Fleeting glimpses during the long hours the Democrats made a night of it during the first three ballots—

The sun was just peeping over the horizon when a tall, white-haired, stately man slipped out of the stadium and made his way to a hot-dog stand across the street. There he stood in line until his turn.

"A hamburger, please, with a little mustard."

After it was handed him along with a bottle of pop he stepped back into the crowd and started munching and sipping.

"Maybe they'll finally get around to you as they did in 1924" someone suggested.

"Not a chance," replied John W. Davis, of West Virginia, between gulps.

JUMPY NERVES—Two gentlemen secreted themselves in a corner on a box under the speaker's platform, while the long and tedious process of polling the Pennsylvania delegation was in process.

Arms around each other to keep their precarious seat, they engaged in earnest and whispered conversation. One was Sam Rayburn, campaign manager for Jack Garner. The other was Sen. Burton K. Wheeler, one of the "generals" of the Roosevelt machine.

A photographer spied them. An excellent shot. The flash of his gun made their dim conference nook vivid for a second. Both jumped, exclaimed in alarm, rubbed their eyes.

SIDE-LOOKS—And then there was the big, florid-faced Irish policeman, who snatched a few winks in the wheel chair of an invalid New York delegate parked under the speaker's platform. The lady dressed as Miss Columbia, had to beat a hasty retreat during the riotous Ritchie demonstration. The going was too rough for her paper-mache gown.

But we still nominate for our prize moment of drama during the long seige the appearance of Mayor Jimmy Walker, hustled out of bed and to the convention floor just as dawn was streaking the sky, to cast his vote for Alfred E. Smith.

TO SUE FARMERS
Belleville, Ill. July 8 (AP)—W. Roy Bost, Montgomery county dairy farmer, today filed suit in the Circuit Court here against the Sanitary Milk Producers, Inc., and four of its officers asking $25,000 for alleged damages resulting from the burning of his farm buildings last October 4 during a "milk war."

He charged the company and its officers conspired to obtain possession of his property and were responsible for the fire which destroyed his barns, silos and equipment.

Officers named as defendants were D. W. Tiedeman, president, and Charles L. Whitlock, Roy Watson and Sumner Wilson.

BALLOON RACE SET
Basel, Switzerland — Rules for the 1932 Gordon Bennett International Balloon Race to be held here September 25 have been completed. The race will start at 4 P. M., and entries are limited to a gas capacity of 77,690 cubic feet. Eight prizes, totaling more than $25,000 will be awarded.

LIQUID ROAD SPRAY
On display at a recent Leipzig fair was a machine which sprayed road surfaces with a liquid. The liquid, on hardening, formed an extremely durable surface.

New York, July 8—(AP)—The alleged difference in the baseballs used in the rival major leagues fast is being shown up as a myth.

There might have been a gulf between the two spheres last season, when comparative averages indicated the American Leaguers were rolling up their tall figures with a "rabbit" ball but they must be getting them out of the same box this season.

Through yesterday's games, for instance, Paul Waner of the Pittsburgh Pirates and Jimmy Foss of the Philadelphia Athletics were running an absolute dead heat for batting honors, each with a .377.

If anything, the National Leaguers' supposedly "dead" ball seems to be traveling further and with more rapidity. The senior circuit could show 10 batters hitting .327 or better, while it was necessary to drop down to .319 to find the American's first ten. Following are the figures:

National League—P. Waner, Pittsburgh, .377; Hurst, Phillies, .369; Lombardi, Cincinnati, .360; Klein, Phillies, .358; O'Doul, Brooklyn, .352; Traynor, Pittsburgh, .348; Orsatti, St. Louis, .335; Herman, Chicago, .333; Worthington, Boston, .330; Stephenson, Chicago, .327; Ott, New York, .327.

American League—Foss, Philadelphia, .377; Walker, Detroit, .349; Averill, Cleveland, .332; Gehrig, New York, .332; Manush, Washington, .327; Levey, St. Louis, .326; Combs, New York, .325; Dickie, New York, .323; Lazzeri, New York, .319; Burns, St. Louis, .319.

Chuck Klein of the Phillies still had most of the individual laurels tucked away in the National League. He had scored the most runs, batted in the most runs, home runs and was tied with Babe Herman of the Reds for the most triples.

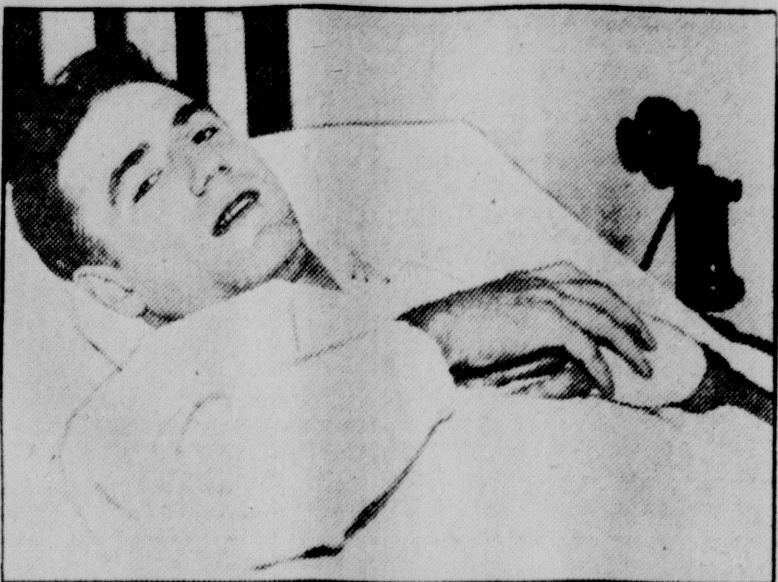

Foss occupied a similar position in the American. In addition to heading the hitters he was the leading scorer, had the most hits, had knocked in more runs than any rival and was far in front in the home run race, with 30. They would have a slick outfield, that pair.

Steve Swetonic of the Pirates and Huck Betts of Boston led the National League pitchers, each with nine wins and two lost, while Lefty Gomez of the Yanks was head man in the American with 14 and 3.

Walton Will Try To Keep Record Clean

The Oak Ridge baseball team will cross bats with Walton Sunday afternoon at 2:30 on the Ridge diamond. Lebre and McGrath will form the battery for the Riders with "Sandy" Cosgrove and Bushman performing for Walton. The Oak Ridge team will attempt to break Walton's record of this season and chalk up a defeat for the Marion township aggregation, which have not been defeated.

Wounded Ball Player and Girl Who Shot Him

Like the good infielder that he is, Bill Jurgens, shortstop for the Chicago Cubs, made a couple of spectacular stops of bullets, but the error of the play must be charged to Miss Violet Popovich 21-year-old Chicago brunet. Disappointed at Jurgens' lack of response to her affection for him Miss Popovich went to his hotel room intent on suicide. Jurgens intervened and was shot. He is shown above on a hospital bed. The girl is at the right.

CARDINALS DO
NATIONAL RACE

Branch Rickey Tossed Unwisely When He Broke Up Team

Associated Press Sports Writer.

Branch Rickey, star boss of the Cardinals, undoubtedly assured the National League a swell race, both artistically and financially, when he began tossing parts from his championship machine here and there a few months ago, but it looks now like he might have tossed not wisely but too well.

The Cardinals, bereft of such stars as Hafee, Grimes and Rhem, never have figured in the current race and it is extremely doubtful they will. Seven times the Red Birds have managed to reach the 500 mark, but each time they have fallen back. Bill Hallahan alone of the pitching staff has done consistently good work, and the club is lacking the punch that kept it at the top the last two years.

The champs almost suffered the crowning ignominy yesterday when Bob Brown, Boston's crack rookie, set them down 6 to 1 on four hits. They averted a shutout only when Jimmy Wilson singled Collins across after two were out in the ninth. Dizzy Dean gave Browns a tussle for seven innings, yielding only four hits but the Braves had a big time with his successor, Paul Derringer.

Pirates Now in Ninth.

The Pittsburgh Pirates put over a run in the ninth to defeat the Giants 8 to 7, and make it four out of five for the series, while Bob Smith pitched Chicago to a 6 to 4 triumph over the Phillies, who bunched their five errors in one inning to give the Cubs three runs. Brooklyn handed Cincinnati a 15 to 5 trimming.

Earl Combs' home run with two aboard gave the Yankees a 3 to 2 decision over Detroit and knocked the Tigers into third place in the American League. Ruffing let the Tigers down with six hits and struck out ten.

The Athletics won two games from Chicago, 6 to 4 and 11 to 2 and took over second place, six and half games back of the Yanks. Jimmy Foss closed his 30th homer in the first.

Although hit hard, Wes Ferrell stuck it out to turn in his 16th victory as Cleveland beat Washington again, 6 to 5. Joe Vosmik's single in the eighth with the bases loaded did the trick.

Ed Gallagher, former Boston College star, made his major league debut with the Boston Red Sox and was given a rousing reception by St. Louis. Before he could be gotten out of there in the second inning the Browns had scored five runs and were on their way to an 8 to 4 victory.

Hooks and Slides

By WILLIAM BRAUCHER
FARLEY CAN'T LOSE—

If Franklin D. Roosevelt should be elected president, in the interests of good clean fun he ought to set up a new cabinet portfolio—Secretary of Cauldflowers—and appoint his campaign manager, James A. Farley to the job.

The country would forget all about the depression then. Reading the edicts of the secretary of cauliflower would keep even the farmers laughing for the next four years.

BETTER THAN VAUDEVILLE—
With Commissioner Farley as dominating influence, the New York State Athletic Commission has provided the country with one happy chuckle after another ever since Farley was appointed by Al Smith back in the days when Dempsey was champion.

Even Dempsey, you remember was barred by the New York commission. It was held that in not meeting Harry Wills, Dempsey was avoiding the most formidable challenger. As a result, two of the greatest boxing gates in history went to Philadelphia.

THE RISKY EDIT—
One of the most hilarious pronouncements of the commission under Farley was the decree made public a few years ago to the effect that Johnny Risko could not fight Victorio Campolo in New York because Risko was "too small."

Risko and Campolo took their fight to Florida, where Risko out-fought the Tall Tower of the Argentine. Then the fight actually was brought to New York. In in tonight.

Earl Combs, Yanks—His homer with two on beat Tigers, 3-2.
Hack Wilson, Dodgers—Drove in four runs against Reds with three singles.
Floyd Vaughan, Pirates—Singled in ninth to drive in winning run against Giants.
Bob Brown, Braves—Stopped Cardinals with four hits.

Do You Remember?

One Year Ago Today—Kay Don, British sportsman, shattered his own world record for speed-boats by driving Miss England II over a measured mile course at Lake Garda, Italy, at a speed of 110.223 miles per hour.

Five Years Ago Today—W. A. Harriman's Chance Play, with Earl Sande in the saddle, won the $25,000 Lincoln handicap at Lincoln Fields setting a track record of 2:04 1-5 for the mile and a quarter.

Ten Years Ago Today—Big Bill Tilden added another tennis championship—the national clay court singles—to his string by defeating Zeno Shimizu, Japanese Davis cup star by scores of 7-5, 6-3, 6-3, in the finals at Indianapolis.

Garner To Sponsor
Probe Of Treasury

Washington, July 9—(AP)—Speaker John N. Garner, long an outspoken critic of Treasury policy has put all his influence behind a more far-reaching congressional investigation of federal money activities.

He reached this decision late yesterday when Rep. McFadden (R. Pa.) who thinks the Treasury and Federal Reserve System are guilty of "internationalism," called attention to a resolution he had introduced for the survey. Garner interrupted with:

"The Rules committee meets at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning. Speaking as I may for the majority, I will request them to bring out the resolution of the gentleman from Pennsylvania, put it on passage and make this investigation."

Consequently, Rules committee approval of the resolution today was just about a foregone conclusion since there are eight democrats and four Republicans in that group. And one of the Republicans—Rep. Michener of Michigan—told the Speaker during the debate he would support the resolution. Later, though Michener did not seem so enthusiastic.

NO EXEMPTIONS
FOR ATHLETES
HAS BEEN RULE

U. S. Olympic Committee Decides All
Must Enter Trials

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sport Writer
Chicago, July 9—(AP)—Regardless of the reasons advanced for making concessions to some of America's super-athletes, such as big Ben Eastman, the prospects point to considerable verbal warfare before the Stanford runner or any other Olympic ace are granted exemption from the final track and field tryouts, booked for Palo Alto, July 15-16.

In an interview today with the Associated Press, Avery Brundage, President of the American Olympic Committee, indicated he expected strong opposition to the suggestion that Eastman be exempted from qualifying for the 800-meter run and required to try out only for the 400 meters.

"I have no doubt there are good reasons for exempting Eastman, as I understand Lawson Robertson has recommended," Brundage said. "The records conclusive show the Stanford star is in a class by himself at the half-mile distance or its equivalent, but the American Olympic Committee has adopted the tryout system as a definite policy. I foresee all kinds of dispute and difficulty if we make exceptions."

President Brundage disclosed that, in addition to Eastman, it has been urged Frank Wykoff, Southern California sprinter, be exempted from the tryouts, and that Jim Stewart, U. S. C. all-around ace, be included in the decathlon squad because of his inability to compete in the final tryouts in Chicago. Stewart was a place-winner in the 1928 decathlon at Amsterdam Wykoff, intercollegiate champion, also is a veteran of the last American Olympic team.

Equipose In Race
At Arlington Today

Chicago, July 9—(AP)—Seven thoroughbreds were in the field today for the third running of the $20,000 added Arlington Gold Cup but as far as the wagering was concerned, six of them were after the place and show money—for Equipose was in the race.

Winner of six straight starts, Equipose was so much of a stand-out the overnight odds had him at 1 to 4 and he was just about conceded the big end of the purse. The event was at one mile and a quarter and weight for age, meaning that the unbeaten Whitney chestnut was down to carry 126 pounds.

Rock Island Wins
First Half Season

Burlington, Ia. July 9—(AP)—Rock Island slugged out a 9 to 1 victory over the Burlington Bees last night to finish the first half of the Mississippi Valley League split season in first place by a margin of four games.

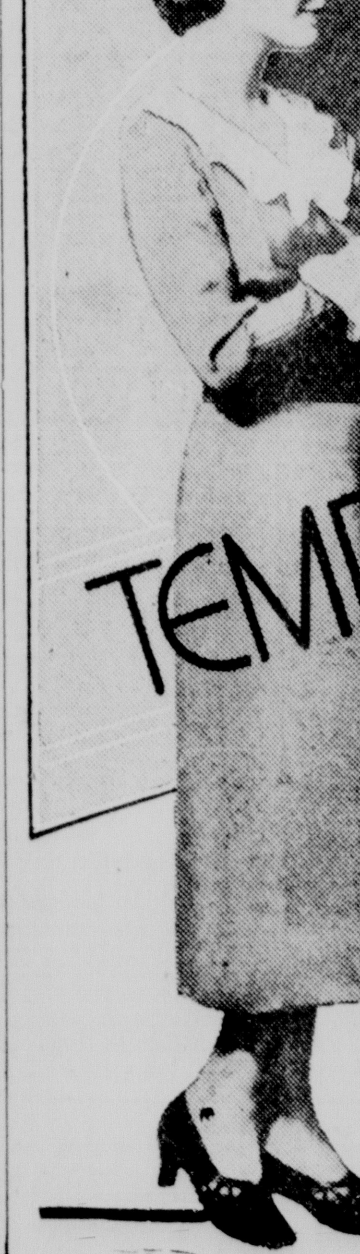

The Keokuk club, which took the pennant in the league last year, was in third position.

The split season was decided on by club owners yesterday.

Final unofficial standings:

Health Hints:
Amateur Athletes

10. BEVERAGES WHILE AT PLAY

Baseball, cricket, tennis, rowing and swimming, indeed all outdoor sports invariably produce thirst. A glass of milk after exercise will quench the thirst and also supply easily digested nourishment.

In almost every outdoor sport the contestants become overheated and perspire freely. Frequently many athletes, both professional and amateur, become ill from drinking too much ice water when in this condition.

The drinking of sweetened drinks frequently containing synthetic flavor and artificial coloring, also has caused many players' stomachs to become "upset." They, too, are often too cold.

Drink plenty of cool water, but not too much ice water. Drink plenty of cool, fresh milk.

Dr. Brown Promises Unusual Lectures At Assembly Park

The address of Dr. Arthur I. Brown last night in the Assembly Park Auditorium before a large audience was on the subject "Why Jesus Christ Must Return to Earth." He said in part:

"The world is struggling to lift itself out of the economic quagmire in which it fights for its very life. There is an increasing demand for some superman to emerge in order to take over the world's business affairs and bring the present chaotic condition to an end."

"As predicted hundreds of times in the Bible only the second coming of Christ will accomplish real relief. His must come to end the present dispensation and to usher in the next, which is the millennial age, marked by the personal reign of Christ."

"He must come back to deal specifically with the separated elements of the world-field, viz, the Jews, the nations, and the church. When He comes the bodies of believers will be instantly transformed as they are raised by infinite power 'to meet the Lord in the air.' The judgment-seat of Christ will be set up and the works of Christians will be judged."

"Israel will be revived spiritually and nationally and the surviving remnant will be sent as evangelists to the heathen nations, as the world's superman, Antichrist, comes into power and carries out his destined work."

"The nations will have their career closed in judgment and very terrible visitations from God their regime will be supplanted by that of Christ, and after Armageddon and its awful slaughter, will ensue a time of great and unexampled blessing."

"All creation must be restored to its original beauty before God's curse was pronounced. Satan and death will be banished as the glorious reign of righteousness, peace and prosperity begins."

Dr. Brown intimated that he would take up many remarkable proofs of the very near return of Christ on Sunday night. Tonight he speaks on Russia and the menace of Communism, and will tell of the plans of Stalin for the United States and will give the number of the district around Dixon, and the plans of Russia for this particular section and the other 19 divisions into which the Communists have separated this country. He will show some pictures taken in Russia within the past few months showing actual conditions there today.

A CAMERA EDITORIAL

This picture is a camera editorial about the way Americans celebrate the Fourth. Six young men were celebrating the Fourth on the outskirts of Butte, Mont., in the traditional way—by setting off explosives to make all the noise possible. The explosives these youngsters selected were dynamite caps.

Exactly what happened isn't known—except that somehow all of the caps went off together.

Some time later a passerby, going near the ball park where the boys had been celebrating, saw this debris scattered over the ground.

That was just about all that was left of the six celebrators.

The remains of their bodies were scattered over an area 300 feet wide.

The picture tells its own story and points its own moral.

For several decades the fight for a safe and sane Fourth has been waged in this country. Evidently it hasn't succeeded very well. Few states have passed laws banning the sale of fireworks; few parents see to it that their children recognize the dangers of explosives and leave them alone.

You might save this photograph and look at it again next year when the Fourth of July draws near. It might save the life of your boy.

Funeral of Mrs. Durkes The funeral of Mrs. A. P. Durkes of Omaha, Neb., who passed away Sunday afternoon, was held Thursday morning from the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Durkes at 10 o'clock. Rev. J. Franklin Young of Dixon conducted the services. Mrs. Durkes who had visited in Franklin and who had many friends here, suffered a stroke of apoplexy Sunday morning but appeared to be recovering until a sudden release brought death at 4 P. M.

She is survived by her husband and one daughter, Mrs. Gustie Barnhart; three granddaughters, Adele, Eloise and Marguerite; a sister, Mrs. Winn Sage; and a brother, Fred Guthrie, all of Omaha.

The pall bearers were: Harry Lager, George Cornelius, Frank Edwards, George Shaw of Dixon, and Fred Hansen and Lloyd Sheap of Franklin Grove.

The second annual session of Camp Shabbona, a Christian Training Camp for Boys will be held on the Franklin Grove Camp Grounds from Sunday, July 10 to Sunday, July 17. The camp is for boys aged 9 to 15 years. It is conducted under the auspices of the Methodist Episcopal church, but opened to all boys regardless of creed or denomination. Everything that a good boys' camp ought to be, plus much Christian emphasis.

Fee including board, lodging and use of swimming pool is only $5.00 for the entire week.

Bring bathing suits for Franklin Grove has a magnificent outdoor swimming pool. There is no better to be found in this part of the state. There is plenty of sparkling pure water, there is ample room and good supervision. A happy week is in store for the boys.

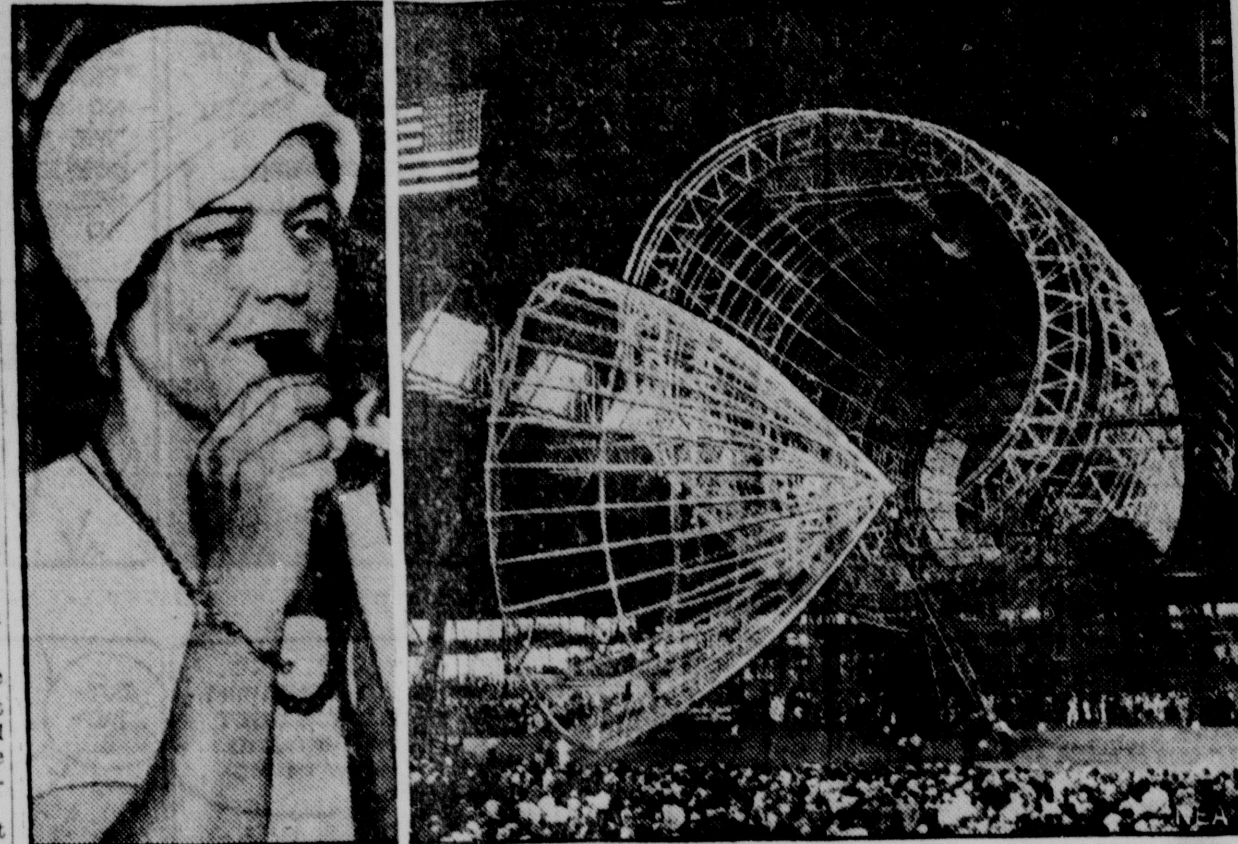

Sunday Afternoon Programs From July 10 to August 14 every Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, there will be an entertainment of truly inspirational and vital interest held on the camp grounds. There will be every incentive for large delegations to come each week from all the communities in the west half of the Dixon-Joliet District. In addition to the Epworth League Pageant and program on July 10 there are to be successive afternoons, "Laymen's Day" a program made up of brief addresses by the lay delegates of the General Conference in Atlantic City.

There will be one Sunday given over to an outstanding evangelist of national reputation who will have right-of-way through the afternoon and possibly evening.

There will be one afternoon devoted to a great band concert. The resident Bishop is expected for one day.

Navy's New Air Giant Turns Up Its Nose

The U. S. navy's mammoth new airship, the U. S. S. Macon, entered the final stages of construction at the Goodyear-Zeppelin dock in Akron, O., when its 75-foot bow was lifted into place with elaborate ceremonies. The larger photo above depicts the scene as Miss Susan Myrick left of Macon, Ga., blew a whistle to start cranes hoisting the airship's nose into place. Resembling its sister ship the U. S. S. Akron in shape and equipment, the Macon is a 6,500,000-cubic foot craft designed for a speed of 80 miles an hour.

expected for one afternoon devoted to Christian citizenship.

Definite announcements will be made later concerning the talent for these programs. There may be some shifting so as to have a missionary day and a temperance day; but the committee is working hard to bring to the Assembly the best possible talent.

Sunbeam Class The Sunbeam class of the Presbyterian Sunday School with their teacher Miss Blanche Colwell held their July meeting Saturday at the home of Nelda Fuller. The meeting was opened by the president, Marie Black. Nelda Fuller read a Bible story after which the Lord's Prayer was repeated by all. The minutes of the June meeting were read by the secretary, Georgia Peterman. It was decided that the class rent a cottage on the camp grounds for a few days camping. They plan to do this July 18. The rest of the afternoon was spent in playing games. Lovely refreshments were served, consisting of sandwiches, salad, pickles, cake and lemonade. A lovely time is reported by all the girls and their teacher.

Vacation Bible School The Vacation Bible School under the direction of Miss Edna Wolf will close tomorrow. An entertainment will be held in the Brethren church tomorrow night so that the public may see and know what the children have accomplished in the past two weeks.

A Happy Evening A delicious picnic supper was enjoyed at 6:30 at home of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Fish, Monday evening. After supper fireworks were set off on the lawn. The remainder of the evening was spent in playing cards. At bridge Mrs. Winifred Knox and Mr. Wilbur Brecunier won highest honors, while Mrs. F. H. Hansen and Wm. Knox were the second in scores. A small group who did not participate in the bridge game had great sport in watching E. L. Lott run up high score at hearts. He seemed to always fall heir to the "black lady."

Those who were present were Dr. and Mrs. Frank Banker and daughter Miss Margaret; Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Brecunier; Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Brewer; Mrs. A. W. Crawford; Mr. and Mrs. William Crawford; Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Dysart; Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Gross; Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Hansen and their guests Miss Maude Norris of Chicago, John Bel-liza, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Knox of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Lott, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Senger and family, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Trottnow and son Lowell.

At a late hour all the guests departed feeling that the 4th had been appropriately celebrated. The group always enjoys a picnic supper and evening every 4th of July at some one's home and share the expense by all a fine thing to do.

W. C. T. U. Notes The W. C. T. U. met June 3 with Mrs. Ella Miller and July 1st with Mrs. Mary Maiden. The programs for both days were most interesting and they brought out much discussion which is always the life of any such meeting. June 3 was "Flower Mission Day" and celebrates the anniversary of Jennie Cassaday, a W. C. T. U. shut-in of days gone by, who passed her shut-in hours in planning cheer and relief for other unfortunate ones. Her work in this line laid the foundation of the work of the Flower Mission and Relief work of the W. C. T. U. everywhere, which is now one of the most active departments of the organization.

Mrs. Mary Maiden is the local superintendent of this work and Mrs. W. B. Holly is at the head of the county activities. A part of the day's program was an article on the beneficial effects on the nations of Asia, Africa and the Islands of the sea, of the Prohibition law of the United States. Before the adoption of the Eighteenth Amendment, the shipment of liquor from this country—a "Christian nation"—into those countries whose religion is aggressive for total abstinence, was one of the worst curses which ever befell these people and the cessation of that trade which has resulted from the Eighteenth Amendment has done those who would weaken or destroy that amendment realize that they would thereby not only loose a horde of new evils on our own soil but they would put this nation immediately back into the business of exporting death to lands that look to us for leading."

The program of July 1 was a study of "Party Platforms, Issues and Candidates," led by Mrs. Elizabeth Sunday and thoroughly discussed by all present. The president Mrs. C. W. Lahman read a letter which had come from D. Leigh Colvin announcing a conference of the dry forces.

Plans were made for filling a barrel of canned fruit, vegetables and berries to be sent to the Elizabeth McFarland Home for Children in Rockford, Ill. Cans are now at the home of Mrs. Mary Trostle for distribution to any who wish to help in this work.

Both hostesses served delicious refreshments and the joy to their gardens and the enjoyment of the beautiful blossoms there was a pleasant part of both occasions. The August meeting will be the annual business meeting and the election of officers with the usual scramble dinner at the home of Mrs. Charles Weybright. Further announcement will be given later.

ROCHELLE NEWS

By Arthur T. Guest

Rochelle — Funeral services for Mrs. Harry Tracy, 79, one of Rochelle's oldest residents, will be held Friday at 2:30 p. m. from the home. Reverend Frank Campbell officiating. Burial will be held in Lawnridge cemetery. Mrs. Tracy died from the infirmities of age at her home here Wednesday. There are no immediate relatives surviving her.

Robert Weik, proprietor of the Hub Billiard hall announces that he has purchased the Rochelle Recreation fixtures and will reopen the bowling alley and luncheon room some time next week. Weik is moving his pool hall equipment to the basement of the Recreation building and will operate the billiard hall in the building in connection with the bowling alley and lunch room.

The Tatro Automotive store on Cherry avenue is being closed this week and the equipment and fixtures moved to the DeKalb store.

Riney Ebens of Monroe Center is in the Lincoln hospital here with serious injuries as a result of an automobile accident Monday evening about 7 o'clock near Esmond, when his automobile collided with a car driven by the section foreman from Davis Junction. The accident occurred at the Murphy corner about two miles west of Esmond. Both cars were badly damaged while the members of the Ebens family who were riding with Mr. Ebens were all injured. Mr. Ebens was the only person seriously injured. He suffered internal injuries and his condition is serious.

Ole Espe of south of Creston was taken to the Lincoln hospital here Wednesday suffering from appendicitis.

BALKAN VICTORY

On July 9, 1918, Franco-Italian troops taking part in the Balkan campaign gained an important victory when they took Fieri and captured the heights between Levan and the monastery of Pohani.

From this advantageous point, French and Italian soldiers had full command of the territory for miles around Fieri, and were well sheltered from counter attack.

Dr. Richard von Kuhlmann, German foreign minister, resigned from the cabinet after pressure outgrowing from a speech he made on settlement of war by diplomatic negotiations, was brought to bear.

Admiral von Hintze was named to succeed him.

ACQUITTED OF MURDER

Harlan, Ky., July 9 —(AP)—Chester Poore was acquitted of the murder of Deputy Sheriff Jim Daniels in the Evans labor clash of May, 1931, by a jury which deliberated two and a half hours here today. Poore was the first of 30 defendants indicted, to be freed of the charges resulting from a fight between deputies and striking coal miners and sympathizers in which at least four men were killed.

When gathering nesting materials the swift does not pick up sticks from the ground but breaks them from trees by seizing small twigs in its feet while in flight.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
CHERRY DIXON, pretty 10-year-old daughter of wealthy parents, falls in love with Dan Phillips, a friendly with Cherry, the means handsome MAX PEARSON, also of the News.

After several weeks Cherry's mother becomes seriously ill. The girl is called home and there is a reconciliation with her parents. Cherry's father, who had been out of the country for some time, returns home and Cherry is reunited with her father. Cherry's father, who had been out of the country for some time, returns home and Cherry is reunited with her father.

CHERRY stood looking out at the wet street. The rain had begun early in the morning, a steady downpour that threatened to continue throughout the night. It had rained every day of the week so far. October apparently was trying to make a mockery as April but the wind was colder and the days were growing shorter. Now at 5:30 dusk was gathering and in half an hour the street would be in darkness.

"Pinkie!" the girl scolded. "I told you to leave those spoons alone! Aren't you ashamed?"

The sentence went unfinished. There was a knock at the door and Cherry hurried to open it.

Dixie Shannon stood in the hallway in dripping raincoat, galoshes and limp felt hat. "Look at me!" she moaned. "My permanent's ruined! I had it put in only a week ago. Did you ever see such a sight? I couldn't get a taxi and I had to wait hours for a car. I'm simply soaked!"

"You certainly are!" Cherry agreed. "Come in and get that wet coat off."

Dixie struggled with the clumsy galoshes. "Might as well have left these at home," she grumbled. "Holes in both heels. Oh—what a day this has been! What a day!"

Cherry took the wet raincoat and spread it over a chair. Raindrops trickled in a little stream from Dixie's hat. The brown hair that had been waved "permanently" a week before was indeed a sorry sight.

Dixie caught a glimpse of herself in the mirror and squealed in dismay. "What'll I do?" she exclaimed. "I look like a Hottentot!"

"Better get into dry clothes," Cherry suggested. "I'll see if I can set that wave for you if you want me to."

"You lamb! Will you really?" "Yes, but you'll have to take a hot bath first and put on something warm. Otherwise you'll have pneumonia!"

Dixie reached for her coat and hat. "I'll be right back," she promised. Almost at the door she stopped. "But I forgot—Dan will be coming—"

"He's having dinner down town tonight," Cherry told her. "Slip into a bathrobe, Dixie, and come down and eat with me. Everything's ready and I was dreading the meal alone."

"Give me 10 minutes and I'll be here with bells on!"

It was a little more than that before Dixie returned. She pushed the door open, raised her tip-tilting nose and sniffed appreciatively. "Food!" Dixie announced. "And such food!"

The table had been drawn out and places laid for two. The odors of baked pork chops, fresh vegetables and muffins mingled appealingly. Cherry was pouring water into amber tumblers.

"Everything's ready," she announced. "And does it look good? Cherry, you're a genius, that's what you are. I've never heard of anyone who could learn to cook the way you have in such a short time. Here I've been struggling with a frying pan for years—and what does it get me?"

Dixie wore a green and white striped bathrobe that apparently had shrunk. She wore floppy blue satin mules on her feet and black lace hose. Her bobbed hair, partly dry now, looked more than ever like the exaggerated coiffure of a First Island princess.

Cherry glanced at her and laughed. "You did wreck that permanent!" she said. "I'm no professional but I think I can promise a little improvement!"

"It cost $7.50," Dixie announced dolefully. "And I thought it was going to make me look like Joan Crawford. Well—there's no use crying over a rolling stone—or whatever it is they say. Looking at those pork chops makes me feel a lot better even if my beauty is ruined."

They were sitting at the table now and Cherry served the plates. Dixie broke open a steaming muffin and the golden butter melted as it touched the bread.

"Dan Phillips is missing an elegant dinner if anyone should ask me," Dixie said. "By the way, what's Dan doing? Working on that play of his?"

Cherry shook her head. "No. Dan's at the office. He said he had a lot of extra work and wanted to stay until it was finished."

"At the office?" The other girl looked up. For an instant she seemed about to speak but then her eyes lowered.

"Didn't you see him there?" Cherry asked.

"Why—oh, yes, he was there when I left." There was another pause and Dixie broke it to say, "Umm! These muffins are marvelous. If I could bake muffins like this one I'd be the proudest person in the world!"

"You can have the recipe," Cherry told her. "They're awfully simple to stir up."

At the other side of the room Pinkie the kitten, was playing with a rubber ball. He gave the ball a smart slap and it went rolling across the floor. Pinkie flew after it.

CHERRY looked at the kitten. She said, "I'm glad you stopped in tonight, Dixie. Pinkie's been the only company I've had all day. It's lonesome here when it's so dark and gloomy outside."

"How's Dan's play coming?" the other girl asked.

"It's been finished and now they're writing the second act over again. It seems to take an awful long time to write a play. I had no idea it was so much work."

Dixie glanced up and the lids of her eyes narrowed. "What do you think of this Brenda Vail?" she asked. "Do you like her?"

Cherry hesitated. "Dan says she's awfully clever," she said slowly.

"Yes, of course, but what do you think of her?"

"I don't think I know her well enough to say. I've only met her a few times."

"Dan sees her rather often, doesn't he?"

"Why, of course. They've been working together for weeks."

"She's—rather unusual looking, don't you think?" Dixie persisted. "Not pretty exactly but the type a lot of men fall for. That red hair and the way she dresses. I've only seen her at a distance. I've only heard them talking about her at the office. There aren't many wives who would be willing to let their husbands spend evening after evening with a vamp like that."

"Dixie, you don't mean to suggest—"

"Heavens forbid! I don't mean to suggest a thing in the world. Of course I know Dan isn't the sort to play around with anyone else—even if it were harmless. I wouldn't say a thing like that for the world!"

The denial was a shade too vehement, and Dixie's smile a trifle forced but Cherry did not seem to notice this. She looked across at the other girl. Cherry's face had suddenly become serious.

"If anybody would dare to say things like that I hope you'll tell them it's not true," she said earnestly. "Dan wouldn't—he couldn't do anything except play fair. He knows."

"I understand about Miss Vail. I understand her because of her ability and of course he's grateful for all the help she's given him."

"At the same time in the second floor apartment Dan Phillips yawned and discarded his vest."

"Say, Cherry," he asked, "what's become of that yarn I wrote about the taxicab driver? The one I called 'Night Life'? Remember? I'd like to take it around for Brenda to have a look at."

Cherry's back was toward him. She did not turn as he answered. There was a pause, almost imperceptible, and then she said, "I'm sorry, Dan, but I destroyed it. I didn't mean to. It got in with some other papers and I didn't know until it was gone—"

The words were a deliberate falsehood. But of course Dan would never learn the truth!

Search Is Spurred for Pirates' Buried Treasure

Treasure hunters on Cocos Islands, in the Pacific, 600 miles off Costa Rica, are reported to have found a spot in a creek bed under which they believe lies the Devonshire treasure, buried by Captain Graham of the British warship Devonshire after he turned pirate. Reports that treasure worth $60,000,000 actually had been discovered were denied by officials of the syndicate financing the expedition. Above is the ship Silver Wave in which the expedition set out, and, in inset, its captain, Eldred Hanson. The map shows the location of Cocos Island where buccanniers of the 1700's are supposed to have hidden tons of gold bullion and chests of coin seized from Spanish vessels.

Rail Wreck Kills Four

Four men were crushed to death in the spectacular wreck of an Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe freight train near Castle Rock, Col., pictured above. A heavy rain had sent a torrent down a dry creek bed, sweeping away the bridge over the gully. The locomotive and four cars leaped the gap and ploughed up the right of way on the other side for 150 feet. Nine cars were splintered into matchwood in the space one car would fill, causing damage estimated at $50,000.
